Profile and Data

In Parwan Province

Parwan in Brief Introduction:

Parwan is located in central Afghanistan between 34.59-35.43 degrees latitude and 68.19-69.62 degrees longitude. Parwan borders the provinces of Baghlan to the north, Kabul and Wardak to the south, Bاميان to the west and Kapisa and Panjshir to the east. The province's 10 districts encompass 5,659.834 square kilometers, which includes 40,678 hectares of agricultural land. Parwan has a total of 760 villages with an estimated population of 633,354 people (2008 census). Parwan is famous for producing cotton, mulberries and vegetables and dried fruit. Herders raise sheep and goats in several districts

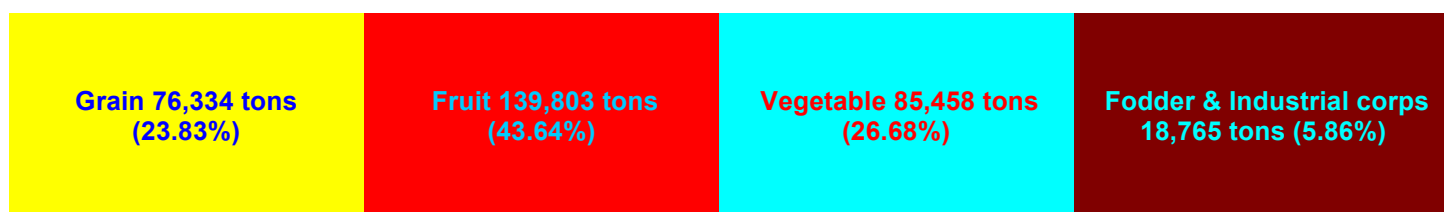

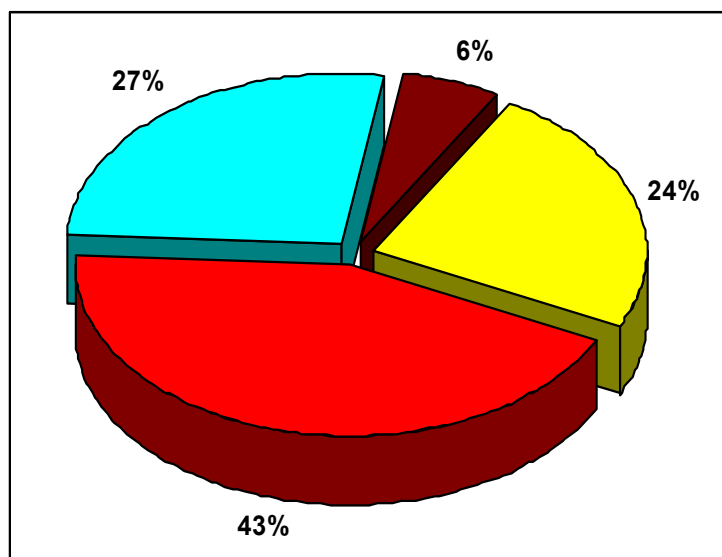

In 2008 farmers in Parwan grew 40 different crops on approximately 57,765 hectares of land (10.2 percent of total area). Fifty-two percent of the Parwan's cultivated land is located in the 7 districts because of the vicinity to the Panjshir River and lower elevations. The other 3 districts are most suitable for raising livestock because of the hilly and mountainous topography in the area.

The districts of Parwan are:

- | | | |

| 1) Charikar | 5) Jabal seraj | 9) Surkh pasha |
| 2) Bagram | 6) Kohisafi | 10) Shaikhali |
| 3) Shinwari | 7) Ghorband | |
| 4) Saidkhel | 8) Salang | |

The total 2008 crop production surveyed in Parwan province was 320,361 metric tons MT, mostly focused on fruits (43.6 percent), followed by vegetables (26.6 percent), grains (23.8 percent) and fodder and industrial crops (5.8 percent) of the total production. The total market value of 2008 of agricultural production was estimated at $193 million with some relevant value added processing.

Of the Parwan's 10 districts, Bagram was the most productive, contributing 24 percent of the 2008 harvest. Charikar district followed with farmers growing 17 percent of total production and Shinwari and Kohisafi tied for the third position (each producing 12 percent of the total agricultural output in 2008).

Research Methodology

This report was prepared based on information provided by AgNet/NAIS system. In 2007 and 2008 AgNet Conducted two separate surveys (1) district profile survey and (2) agricultural statistic survey in 19 provinces of Afghanistan with the support of ASAP and MAIL at district level. During a period of 4 months each, more than 50 surveyors collected information related to the number of hectares land cultivated, types of products produced, number of livestock, crop calendar, sources of water and much more agricultural information. The information presented in this report is based exclusively in the area surveyed, not in the total farm land of the provinces. The AgNet/NAIS data base for Parwan is the most accurate database available in the country in spite there is not estimation rewarding the level of exactitude of the information. All data related to harvest amounts was checked in July 2008 by ASAP personnel (Prof. A. Ghani Taj Agricultural Information Specialist and former professor of Kabul University and Ahmad Jawid Abid Survey and Data Assistant) by comparing the national average productivity level of each products. Crop value information was determined on wholesale price in Parwan and collected by Parwan AgNet officer MrShah Mir Amiri and approved by deputy director of Parwan Provincial Agriculture department Mr. Shahmir Amiri in September 2008.

Grains

Parwan's 2008 annual grain production was surveyed as amounting to approximately 76,334 MT, which had a corresponding market value of $39 million during that year. Of all the grain, the vast majority (92 percent) consisted of major food staples wheat and corn with value of $35 million while the remaining 8 percent was other grains worth $4 million.

Fruits

Parwan's 2008 annual fruit production s was estimated at 139,803 MT with a value of over $112 million. Grapes represent 54.5 percent of all fruits grown in the province and generated $45 million annually. Apricots were the second most grown fruit (16.7 percent of production) resulting in a profit of $16.3 million. Almonds were another high value fruit, totaling nearly $28.3 million in revenue.

Vegetable production surveyed in Parwan province during 2008 was estimated at 85,458 MT, with a value of almost $32 million. Parwan farmers grew more than 15 different types of vegetables but only 4 reached over 10,000 MT. Onions, potatoes and tomatoes represented 55.7 percent of the province's total vegetable harvest.

Potatoes, onions and tomatoes, garlic and eggplant are produced in all districts of Parwan and equated to 73.7 percent of all vegetable produced in the province in 2008. Farmers in Surkh Parsa grew 28.5 percent of all potatoes and Charikar district produced almost the same amount of onions (27.5 percent), in addition to 50 percent of the province's eggplant and 30 percent of tomatoes in 2008. Fodder & Industrial Crops

Cotton is an important industrial crop grown in Parwan and is used almost exclusively for local benefit. Cotton plantations in Parwan are irrigated by the Panjshir River. Alfalfa and clover are both good cash crops and sources of fodder for livestock. An equivalent of $7 million worth of animal fodder was generated in 2008.

Alfalfa and clover are grown in 7 of Parwan's 10 districts and are irrigated by the Panjshir River. Sesame and industrial crops were grown in very small amounts in the province and only for household consumption in Figures presented in the following table are in kg.

Livestock

Statistic survey conducted in Parwan in 2008 found that farmers grow 43 types of different agricultural crops and raise 10 types of household livestock and poultry (See annex –V).

Province	District	Total livestock	Total Poultry
Parwan	Bagram	29,374	63,481

	Charikar	17,920	14,495

Household livestock maintained in Parwan number 522,248, not including 248,283 chickens, ducks and turkeys. Herders in Shinwari district raised 58 percent of livestock and the remaining 42 percent are found in all the Parwan's other 9 districts. Sheep and goats are the dominant household livestock (42.28 percent and 40.80 percent respectively).
